

Help Build Latin America's 1st Digital Sustainable Energy Marketplace!

We're looking for a data or software engineer, or someone with relevant experience and interest in data science for sustainability. We are a team of entrepreneurs and developers creating Latin America's 1st digital sustainable energy marketplace and are currently growing our team.

Skills required: Significant experience with Python & serious web scraping skills.

Experience: Junior talent (including) undergrads who want to learn and grow, or senior talent on a part-time basis.

Interests: Sustainability, digital communities, broad interests in these themes are Ok!

Time commitment: 10 hours a week.

Compensation: Project-based pay + potential for equity if you're interested in the long run!

Contact: diego@threestone.io

More Info: threestone.io

Threestone Analytics is Supported by:

